GOODMAN HARVEY ANNOUNCES FORMATION OF LITIGATION DEPARTMENT

Goodman Harvey LLP– the niche Manchester based property firm – has signalled its determination to overcome the current economic difficulties affecting property law firms through diversification. The firm opened its Litigation Department on 21 September 2009. The department is headed up by Mark Jones, formerly of George Davies Solicitors, who has over 20 years' experience in the field. Mark brings with him assistant solicitor Alison Parry.

Stephen Goodman comments: "We feel it is a major feather in our cap to attract Mark and Alison to establish our Litigation Department and believe that our reputation will go from strength to strength."

Mark Jones adds: "The opportunity to bring a litigation department to such a high quality property practice as Goodman Harvey LLP was too good to miss."
